50 CENTS PER MONTH

EVACUATE TRIESTE AS ITALIAN VICTORY LOOMS CERTAIN

COLOSSAL COST OF U. S. WAR APPEARS IN ESTIMATES

Expect to Set Record of Billion Dollars Hour In House Action

MAY VOTE 11 BILLION IN SIX TO TEN HOURS

Plan to Defeat Wealth Conscriptors Blocked By Johnson, Belief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—America's present war congress will be a $30,000,000,000 session. Of this colossal sum $7,147,222,907 has been appropriated since congress convened in March. More than $23,000,000,000 additional in pending estimates and others to be made soon must be cared for before the session quits.

These figures do not include revenue which finance committee members say will have to be raised at the regular December session.

This week may see a billion dollars an hour mark set by the house.

Largest Bill Ever Considered

House Leader Kitchin announced he would attempt to put the $11,500,000,000 bond and war bill through the house in one legislative day. It is likely, he added, that the house may approve this measure—the largest money bill ever considered by any legislative body in the history of the world—in from six to ten hours. Opposition to it, so far as developed, is concerned solely with details susceptible of quick settlement.

Discussion of the measure has centered about how the money shall be raised. Members of the ways and means committee favor increasing the new liberty bond loan rates of interest from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent and making them taxable.

Profits For Investors

This is to attract subscribers of moderate means. One committee member has figured that under prospective income tax rates any person with less than $125,000 invested will find the new issue more profitable than the old 3 1/2 per cent securities.

Much money now drawing 3 or 3 1/2 per cent at the savings deposits will be attracted by the proposed new interest rate.

Secretary McAdoo was heard today by the committee.

In a week of ten days house leaders expect to pass the soldier insurance bill, the $11,500,000,000 revenue bill and the $6,000,000 emergency appropriation bill.

Senate supporters of the finance committee's revenue bill laid plans at a meeting this forenoon to defeat the group demanding conscription of wealth. The movement to stop debate with the cloture rule, however, seems defeated by Borah and Johnson, who yesterday unhorsed the fifty senators who had signed the petition.

The senate today resumed debate on the proposed increases in postal rates on newspapers and periodicals and the publishers' profits tax. A strong fight is being made against both.

NIGHT SERVICE ON SAN FRANCISCO CAR LINES WAS RESUMED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Strike of the United Railroads platform men will end by next Monday, Labor Day, in a victory for the men, head of the strikers declared today. Negotiations are now in progress which will result in granting of the men's demands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Following operation of night service on eight principal street car lines without serious trouble, the United Railroads announced today that this service, which was entirely suspended last week, will be continued. In the meantime, a movement for arbitration of the car men's strike has been given impetus by the adoption by the board of supervisors of resolutions demanding settlement.

While the police refused the request of President Lillenthal of the United Railroads for policemen to ride on its night-run cars, under orders from Chief White, company commanders detailed extra men to patrol the car routes.

The strikers at a meeting tonight will nominate officers for the new carmen's union.

WILSON'S NOTE ELECTRIFIES RUSSIANS

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Aug. 28.—President Wilson's message to the Russian conference electrified that assembly today. His promise that America would aid new Russia "with all moral and material power" was greeted with thunderous cheers. His entire statement produced a deep impression coming as it did after speeches by cabinet officials had bared Russia's grave need of financial, industrial and moral aid.

President Wilson's cable was received at midnight. The conference had labored for long hours before that. The great hall of the meeting still was the tired delegates prepared to leave.

The message was read amid a silence that bespoke eager attention. Then came a storm of cheering. Every delegate in the hall arose to his feet. The bedlam of sound continued for several minutes.

It was the first time since the conference assembled that there was any unanimity of action. Even the cadet party members joined in the demonstration. Heretofore they have catallined, almost glumly, applauding no speakers except those of their own party.

Premier Kerensky read President Wilson's message.

The chasm between these quiet cadet forces and the workmen's and soldiers' representatives was just as wide early today when the session concluded as it was in preceding meetings. The single point of unanimity between the two forces developed in the reading of Wilson's message.

All of Moscow is guarded in a fashion reminiscent of the old days of autocracy. Cossacks patrol the city hall where the conference meets. Admittance is guarded strictly. Uniforms are sprinkled everywhere.

DRAFT DISTRICT IN BAY CITY MAY BE LARGEST IN U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—With 1500 late draft registrations enrolled since the drawing at Washington to add to the 9,930 registered in the Thirteenth San Francisco district, Registrar Zemansky today faces the problem of having the number of registrants in that district exceed 10,500 the total of the numbers drawn. Zemansky fears that, with registrations still coming, the district will become the largest in the country and will force Washington to hold a second lottery in order to assign the new numbers.

HEARING OF SERVICE 'OBJECTOR' DUE TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Kenneth G. Darling, scion of a wealthy Claremont family, graduate of Pomona College and post-graduate from Harvard University, who stated he was a conscientious objector to selection in the new Liberty army, according to officers, will probably be given a hearing before Commissioner Hammack in the Federal building today.

Darling was arrested and furnished a $2500 bond. He refused to appear before the exemption board for examination, according to government operatives.

PUBLIC FAREWELL WILL BE GIVEN DRAFTED MEN IN COUNTY

Chamber of Commerce and City Council to Co-operate In Plans Under Way

Orange county boys who will mingle with thousands of others from all parts of the United States in defense of the honor of this nation to fight for the preservation of democracy will not go into the training camps without home people expressing their appreciation in a public way.

A movement to give the departing "national defenders" a fitting farewell was started yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce, when the directors of that organization gathered for the purpose of discussing plans for a public meeting in their honor.

Co-operation of the city council was promised last night at the special meeting of the trustees, when Greenleaf offered a motion that the council co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in the movement.

"I know what a splendid impression a public meeting of this kind leaves on boys departing from home," said Greenleaf, who was at one time captain of Company L, and who was one of the commissioned officers at the time the company left home during the Spanish-American war. "The hearts of the boys beat with pride and their loyalty and enthusiasm are increased by such public demonstrations."

Mayor Visel and other members heartily endorsed the sentiment and voted a motion offered by Greenleaf to the effect that if the band could not be secured without cost, the city bear the expense of its services.

The general plan, however, is to have the farewell next Tuesday night, the evening before the first of the drafted men are to leave, and to merge the Wednesday night band concert with the farewell exercises. Next week's concert will be the last of the summer series, and it is believed there will be no difficulty in making the final concert Tuesday night instead of Wednesday night.

Public speakers will be secured and seats will be provided for all the drafted men of the county, the exercises to be held at Birch Park.

Details of the demonstration are yet to be worked out, and the time and extent of the exercises will depend in some measure upon the exemption board of the Second district. At the meeting yesterday Secretary Metzgar was authorized to get in touch with the members of the board and ask them to co-operate in the movement, so that the affair could be made a county event. A definite answer from the board is expected tomorrow.

A parade of the men in the first call from both districts may take place, but this is not an assured feature of the program as yet. Whether or not the 385 men drawn would want to appear in public in marching order is a point that concerns those who have the arrangements in hand. Should this feature be objectionable to a majority of them it will not be attempted.

Some suitable badge to designate them and serve as a souvenir of the farewell, will be prepared.

As soon as the exemption board of the Second district informs Secretary Metzgar of its decision with reference to the farewell, the Chamber of Commerce directors will be called together and committees appointed to make full arrangements.

With reference to the Elks' band rendering its services free at the farewell should it be decided to have the final concert Wednesday evening instead of Tuesday, Director W. Frank Harris this morning said:

"I am not in a position to speak for the full membership of the organization, but I believe every member would be very willing to give his services free. As for myself I would be more than pleased to assist in the popular demonstration without compensation."

While the local board has not yet received definite details, it is expected that the men who will go in the first call of five per cent of the quota will entrain on Sept. 5.

Anaheim is considering giving the boys of that city a demonstration before their departure, but as yet no definite action has been taken. The drafted men of the city have been extended a special invitation to attend the Mother Colony barbecue to be held at Orange County Park on Thursday next.

EXPECT WILSON'S REPLY TO PAPAL PEACE PROFFER TO BE READ

Officials Say President's Answer Will Show American Purpose In War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The President's answer to the Pope's peace offer has been forwarded to the Vatican, the State Department announced this afternoon.

The completed draft was read to the members of the cabinet at this afternoon's meeting and was immediately ordered prepared for publication tomorrow morning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Wilson is expected to read to his cabinet today a completed draft of his reply to Pope Benedict's peace proffer. It will then probably go forward this week.

Those knowing the President's mind say his answer will show the liberals of the world that America is in the war for no sordid purpose and for no gain for herself—beyond assurance that the subtle intrigues of autocratic power cannot weave themselves about democratic nations to accomplish their destruction. This can come only with changes inside the German empire.

It will be a declaration of principles clearly defining the purposes of this government. And it is expected to be a great factor either in prolonging or shortening the war.

See Enemy Weakening

As allied pressure is exerted more and more on the iron ring of the Teuton powers, officials here today note the first sign of weakening in the enemy camp. Russia appears to be re-energized strong from the Moscow conference. The Italians in their drive against Austria have created near-panic in the ranks of their foe. Italian army men here have claimed for weeks that the royal road to victory and peace lay through Austria.

Money, munitions and supplies were lacking at first, but these have gradually been granted and with increased amounts promised the Italians have begun their great drive. Assisting the Italians are internal disturbances in Austria, revolutions in a number of her smaller states and suffering from lack of food.

Peace Words to Be War Crisis

But while these signs are good ones, officials here say President Wilson's next peace words will constitute a new climax in the war.

Refusal to accept peace now will increase the bitterness among the Teutonic peoples if he can convince them America's is not a war of conquest. Otherwise it will serve only to consolidate them more firmly about their rulers—and the war will go on indefinitely, they say.

CLAIM DISEASE IS RAMPANT IN GERMANY

BERNE, Aug. 28.—Germany is suffering from an almost nationwide epidemic of dysentery.

German mortality rates have jumped from 50 to 100 per cent since the first of the year. Tuberculosis is ravaging the people, due to their weakened conditions through lack of proper food. This information came to the United Press today from a source of highest authority.

The German government is making frantic efforts to conceal the dysentery epidemic. All German cities have stopped publication of mortality statistics. The tuberculosis rate is said to have nearly doubled in the last few months. Every effort is being made to reassure the German public.

Many Local Outbreaks

Scores of reports have reached here recently of local outbreaks of dysentery in Germany. From information obtained today it appeared these have been merely local outbreaks as compared with the present practically universal spread of the scourge.

Dysentery comes in part from lack of proper diet. It is in order to conceal this lack of food that the German government is making such extraordinary efforts to suppress all details of the epidemic.

Mystery Blazes Destroy Packing-house and Store

Beckman Grocery Burned, House Threatened At 2:30 This Morning

Threats Made Against Man Are Now Cause of Grave Suspicions

Fire—George J. Beckman's store at 839 East Washington burned down, his house at 841 is damaged.

Loss—Store building, $1800; stock in store, $3800; to house and furniture, $500; total, $6100.

Insurance—Store building, $1,300; stock store, $2800; house and furniture, $500.

Cause of fire—No one knows. Possibly incendiary.

Fire that broke out in George J. Beckman's general merchandise store at 839 East Washington avenue at 2:30 o'clock this morning destroyed the store and practically all of its contents, and set Beckman's residence afire.

The store building, owned by Beckman, was built nine years ago, with an addition at the rear going on two years later. So far as can be judged, the fire started near the partition between the two rooms of the store.

Beckman's house is but ten feet from where the rear part of the store stood. The fact that the house has brick walls alone saved it from total destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckman were asleep on a porch at the rear of the dwelling. Their children have been sleeping all summer in a tent at the rear end of the lot.

Mrs. Beckman was awakened, and she telephoned to the fire department. At that time the rear of the store was all ablaze, and the flames were communicated to the roof of the home, and shot through the windows. Every room in the house, excepting the kitchen, was soaked in conquering flames in the house. The piano was carried out under the direction of Policeman John Ryan.

W. R. Hunter, who lives in the house west of the store, had a garden hose lying on his roof. That house did not catch afire.

Beckman's gasoline storage tank is in a small outbuilding twenty-five or thirty feet from the rear of the store. When the firemen arrived little Jack Beckman was plying a stream of water from a garden hose upon this building.

Threats Are Made

"I can't think that anyone would burn me out," said Beckman this morning. "I have had some trouble at times with people who would not pay their grocery bills, and I have pounded some of them on the back pretty hard, I never regarded them very seriously. I hardly know what to think about it. I don't see how the fire got started unless someone did set it afire. I was in the store last night and closed it about 8 or 8:30 o'clock."

Mrs. Beckman, who first discovered the fire, said that if anyone did set the place afire he must have crawled through a west window into the place.

Attacked by Thugs

A year or more ago Beckman was attacked and robbed while collecting in the west part of the city. He was struck over the head, and wandered miles away before he recovered his senses. At that time it was thought that some Mexican had attacked him.

In the nine years that Beckman has conducted the store it has been burglarized but once, though several attempts were made to enter it.

Beckman stated this morning that he did not know whether or not he would rebuild. He hopes to be able to start his business again.

BAR TENDER ARRESTED; GERMAN CONSPIRATOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Arrested as the financial agent of the German government and alleged to have handled thousands in German money, William Mullane, bartender, today faced indictment as a co-conspirator in the plot to liberate Franz Bopp, former German consul, from internment.

$1550 JEWELS TAKEN IN EARLY ROBBERIES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Apartments in the fashionable St. James Park district were robbed early today, apparently by the same burglar, and jewels valued at $1550 taken. The robberies occurred at about the same hour and within a stone's throw of each place.

Foothill Valencia Building Goes Up In Smoke at 10 O'clock Last Night

Santa Fe Man Hears Dull Explosion, Then Sees Flames Shooting Forth

Fire—Packinghouse at Orange, owned by E. T. Parker, occupied by Foothill Valencia Growers' Association.

Loss—Foothill Growers, $5000 in cyanide and $3500 in equipment. Globe Milling Company, $2500 in seed and fertilizer. E. T. Parker, $2000.

Insurance—Association and milling company losses covered. Parker's, not known.

Cause of fire—Unknown.

ORANGE, Aug. 28.—Fire destroyed a packinghouse on the Santa Fe reservation last night, and threatened half a dozen other buildings.

The packinghouse that was burned was owned by E. T. Parker of Caxelco, and was occupied by the Foothill Growers' Association, which recently moved most of its work into a new building. However, it was still using the old building.

The Explosion

The fire was first discovered by D. P. Goodrich, co-owner of the Santa Fe depot. He heard a muffled explosion. Turning, he saw the packinghouse was all aflame inside. Fire was bursting from the windows. The noise heard by Goodrich may have been an article of some kind falling down.

Goodrich gave the alarm. Firemen arrived quickly. The roof was already falling in, and the firemen could do nothing but save other buildings from catching fire. Splendid work was done. The J. McInnes packinghouse, but twelve feet from the flames, and the C. S. Spencer packinghouse, thirty feet away on the other side, were saved. Paint blistered on the Santa Fe depot, just across the tracks. It was endangered. Had any other building caught fire, there is no telling where the fire would have stopped.

No Fruit There

There was no fruit in the building that was destroyed. The association had about $9000 worth of cyanide stored there. Some of it will still be good for use. How much is not known. Some packing equipment that burned was valued at $3500. A quantity of horse bean seed and a carload of commercial fertilizer owned by the Globe Milling Company of Los Angeles went up in smoke.

The losses of the association and of the company are covered by insurance. Parker was away, and whether or not he had insurance is not known. The building was put up over twenty-five years ago.

Watchman Away

The association had hired Joe Brusco to watch the place, particularly the cyanide, since a year or two ago the association had a lot of cyanide stolen. Brusco was not on the job. He was somewhere down town when the fire broke out. Some of his personal effects were destroyed. His motorcycle was saved.

No one knows how the fire was started.

FIRST OF MARINES KILLED IN FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Second Lieutenant Frederick Wahlstrom of the United States marine corps has been killed in a motorcycle accident, "Somewhere in France," according to a cablegram received today in marine headquarters here. Death was caused by a fractured skull. This is the first marine corps casualty reported.

Wahlstrom's next of kin is a cousin, Edward Hagman of Worcester, Mass. The message telling of his death came from Colonel Doyen, commanding the marines in Pershing's army. Wahlstrom was one of the best marksmen in the service and was formerly an instructor in electric engineering at Brooklyn Navy Yard.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Senate today by a vote of 59 to 29 struck from the war revenue bill the provision for an increase in letter postage from two cents to three cents.

AUSTRIANS REEL FROM TERRIFIC SLAUGHTER OF CONQUERORS

Advancing Troops Find Only Abandoned Camps of Retreating Enemy

CLAIM MORALE OF ARMY DECREASED BY ROUT

Swiss Reports State That Austria Is Seething In Discontent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Trieste, the pivotal point of the Austrian government on the Mediterranean, is being evacuated, reports this afternoon declare.

The civil population is deserting the city at the order of the Austrian commanders.

The passing of each hour brings the Italian offensive more certain of ultimate military success.

The Austrian troops are reported to be so far ahead of the pursuing Italians that no trace can be found of them except their deserted and abandoned camps.

AUSTRIA MAY DECLARE WAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The tremendous increase in assistance given by this government to the enemies of Austria is expected to result in a declaration of war on the United States by that dual monarchy soon. Admitting that such action is believed inevitable, the state department said today that war will be on Austria's initiative.

This dissipated all doubts in Italian quarters that this government is not willing to uphold Italy in her giant offensive.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Italy's sweep forward from Monte Santo across the plateau of Bainsizza is fast becoming a debacle of defeat for Austria. The Austrian staff has decreed retirements at several places to save whole divisions from flanking moves. The morale of the retreating troops, constantly battered by Italian, French and British long range guns and attacked incessantly by Italian fliers, is steadily decreasing.

New Austrian troops have been rushed to the places of the exhausted defenders and are desperately, but vainly striving to stem the flood of the Italian offensive which burst through when Monte Santo's subjugation was completed.

Today's front dispatches indicated not only pursuit of the retreating Austrians across Bainsizza, but attacks further south by the Italians at the chain of rocky promontories, of which Kuk, Monte Santo and the Vodice are the three largest.

Swiss dispatches brought word that Austria is seething with discontent. Italy's victories are causing widespread alarm. The public, which had regarded the pope's peace plea as certain of acceptance, is now realizing it is foredoomed to failure.

BY HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Aug. 28.—Germany has lost more than 50,000 men in the Flanders battle alone since July 1.

The figures were compiled today when the assembling of data obtained from prisoners was completed.

Prisoners said thirty-seven German divisions (approximately 555,000 men) had been engaged in the Flanders section since the first of last month.

Thirty of these (approximately 450,000 men) have been withdrawn on account of losses.

The German high command's usual practice is to withdraw a division for reorganization after its losses have taken from 2000 to 2000 men.

Taking this as a basis, it can be assumed that if Germany has withdrawn thirty divisions, her losses must be anywhere from sixty thousand to seventy-five thousand.

A conservative estimate would put them considerably above fifty thousand.

Seven German divisions which were on the Flanders front on July 1 are still there.

These estimates of losses do not take into account the huge casualties which the enemy has sustained of late around Verdun and the Chemin des Dames.

The time for filing affidavits in support of claims for exemptions ended Friday, Saturday and Monday, according to the time notices were mailed to the men. The board is making up its record to show who failed to appear, who passed without asking exemption, aliens, etc.

"There are no forms for agricultural claims," said V. V. Tubbs, chairman of the board. "Any person desiring exemption upon agricultural grounds must make out their own statements and send them to the appeal board in Los Angeles."

The first ten men to be sent to camp are to be selected according to military experience.

STORK HAS BEST OF GRIM REAPER SAY STATISTICS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—Old Man Stork was too lively a pace-setter for the Grim Reaper in California in 1916. The births exceeded the deaths by 10,778, according to the report issued by the bureau of vital statistics today.

The birth registrations of 1916 were 50,638 and the deaths 39,860—a 27 per cent gain as compared with 32.2 per cent in 1915 and 22.6 in 1914.

The corresponding per cent was only 13.6 in 1913, 7.1 in 1912 and 2.4 in 1911. In 1906 to 1910, inclusive there were fewer births than deaths.

In 1916 the relative excess of births over deaths was greatest for the following counties: Alpine, 200 per cent (three births to one death); Modoc 168.3; Tulare, 124.4; San Benito, 89.1; Ventura, 87.4; Merced, 86.5; Lassen, 100.7; Fresno, 95.3; Contra Costa, 93.1; Kings, 85.6; Madera, 85.2; Glenn, 82.9; Siskiyou, 76.9; Orange, 76.7; Stanislaus, 70.6; San Luis Obispo, 70; Santa Barbara, 66; Sutter, 65.5; Imperial, 59.2; Colusa, 58.1; Yolo, 55.8; San Mateo, 54.6.

The excess of births over deaths was less than 10 per cent in Amador, Coloveras, Lake, Mendocino, San Diego, San Francisco, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Sierra counties and births were less than deaths in El Dorado, Inyo, Mariposa, Mono, Napa, Nevada, San Joaquin, Trinity, Tuolumne and Yuba counties.

LONG BEACH PHYSICIAN ORDERED TO U. S. ARMY

LONG BEACH, Aug. 27.—Dr. Rodrick H. Shippey, one of Long Beach's most prominent physicians, left today for Arcadia, where he will report for duty as a first lieutenant in the medical corps. He received orders last Thursday to report at San Francisco by telegraph for assignment. His reply instructed him to proceed to Arcadia.

Mrs. Shippey will remain here until her husband is transferred to a regular army post, where she hopes to join him.

Dr. Shippey's brother, Hugh, is a lieutenant in the United States marines.

SANTA ANAN IN WARPLANE NOW PLANS TO BE AIR FIGHTER

Herbert Kendall In Camp Bombed For Three Nights By German Aeros

A ride in an aeroplane near the French front, three nights under fire from German warplanes, nights and days on an ammunition truck—these are some of the details in letters received from Herbert Kendall of Santa Ana, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kendall of 311 Cypress avenue.

Kendall is driving an ammunition truck for the French army. Recently his group of drivers have been serving ammunition to two divisions instead of one, and long hours have been their.

In his work, Kendall became acquainted with some of the aviators, and one of them took him upon a splendid ride in a warplane. In one of his letters he said that when his six months enlistment as driver of an ammunition truck is up he is going to enlist with the American fighting forces, either as an aviator or with the artillery.

The bursting of a bomb is getting to be quite a familiar sound to the young Santa Anan. Recently the camp where he is stationed was attacked each night for three nights by German aviators, who dropped scores of explosives upon the camp. During the attack the truck drivers with others were ordered into dugouts and other places of comparative safety.

Kendall began driving an ammunition truck about June 1. When he wrote his last letter, a month ago yesterday, he was due to receive his first permission, a week off, the following week. He had not decided whether to spend the time in Paris or in the Alps.

FRUIT GROWERS WILL PROTEST AGAINST BANK

Low Valuations Placed By Federal Farm Loan Bank Will Get Rap

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 28.—All fruit and nut growers in this part of the state who are interested in the Federal Loan Bank at Berkeley, will be glad to know that a meeting is to be held tomorrow at Ganesha Park in Pomona to draft a protest in regard to the methods practiced by the bank.

A general feeling of discontent has arisen with the bank, on account of the very low valuations for loan purposes placed by the bank on ranch property, both citrus and deciduous. To voice this spirit of dissatisfaction the growers have called the meeting tomorrow for all in this part of the state who are interested. The program will commence at 10:30.

Not only those who are members of the National Farm Loan Association, but all who will become members, or who are interested in the work are invited to the meeting at Pomona. A picnic lunch will be taken by those attending and they will have an opportunity to meet other growers from all over Southern California.

A special committee has been appointed to draft the protest of the growers to the Federal Bank. This committee is made up of the following members: L. W. Cushman, Ontario; J. K. Brown, Anaheim; W. J. Newsom, Garden Grove; Edward F. Walker, Glendora, and A. M. Seely, Covina.

PLANT ALFALFA ON A FIFTY-FIVE MILE FARM IN COLORADO

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 28.—The most unique farm in the United States will be sown to wheat or alfalfa this fall. It will be fifty-five miles long and 200 feet wide, and will occupy the land which represents the present right of way of the Denver & Laramie railway, which will be "junked" September 1 by its owner, M. S. Radetsky. The "farm" will extend from Greeley, Colo., to Denver, and will pass through the business section of several small towns between the two.

The railroad, which has never paid, was recently purchased at public auction by Radetsky, a dealer in defunct railroad properties. The rolling stock and track will be sold for junk, and the right of way used as a wheat or alfalfa field, unless the owner is restrained from "junking" the line by the state public utilities commission.

'DON'T EAT'; REDUCE HIGH COST LIVING

ALAMEDA, Aug. 27.—Dr. Arthur Heironymus, city health officer of Alameda, has solved the high cost of living. More than that, he has reduced it to the absolute minimum. His method is simple. "Don't eat," he says.

But it's not all theory for he has placed his plan in practice with himself. Last week he fasted three days and declared before long he would repeat the process. "Best thing in the world for a person," he declared, "and say—suppose every healthy adult in America would stop eating for a week. Do you know it would mean the saving of $100,000,000 worth of foodstuffs? Guess that's helping the allies."

TAX LIMIT LAW HELD UP. LAW BE VOTED ON BY PEOPLE

Permission to Levy Taxes Comes But Proves to Be Useless Procedure

According to a Sacramento dispatch the supreme court has rendered a ruling to the effect that the tax limit law is subject to the referendum, and the operation of that law will therefore be held up until it is voted upon by the people of the state.

This law limits the amount of money that any tax-making body can raise to a sum not in excess of five per cent of the amount raised the year previous. It also directs that every tax-making body in the state, city, county and district, shall be upon the budget system.

The schools fought the law, and secured enough names to perfect a referendum. However, the attorney general ruled that since it was a tax measure the law was not subject to referendum and could not be held up. The supreme court does not agree with the attorney general, and the secretary of state will have to file the petition.

Acting on the probability that the law would go into effect for this year, Orange county's board of supervisors had forwarded a statement of its proposed budget for the coming year, and this morning notice was received from the State Board of Authorization that permission had been granted the county board here to raise $927,694.89 by taxes this year. This authority, however, is not now necessary, as the state is to operate under the laws as they were before the tax limit law went into effect.

State tax experts are pronounced in their declarations that the tax limit law is one of the best things ever passed for the benefit of the taxpayers. A hard fight will be made to defeat the referendum.

ENCOURAGE ANY ADVOCATE OF PEACE, PLEA

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28.—"Any agency, regardless of political, religious or national affiliation, that has for its aim the promotion of peace—permanent or temporary—should be encouraged."

Archbishop Bonzano, apostolic delegate, was discussing the Stockholm Socialist peace conference and the attitude of various nations in refusing passports to delegates, when he made the above statement.

"No matter from whom or what quarters peace talk may come, it is most welcome to the Holy Father," the apostolic delegate said. "Any agency seeking to end the internecine strife that is drenching the world with blood of nations should be given a hearing."

"The Holy See does not desire any monopoly of the credit for securing peace. In his first supplication to the belligerents the Holy Father made it clear that cessation of war, not the terms or determining factors—was of first importance."

"Points Out Power of Press One of the most powerful agencies in either encouraging or discouraging peace, in the opinion of the archbishop, is the press.

"The majority of the peoples of all countries are guided by the press; public opinion is moulded through the printed page," the delegate declared, "and any agency which aids in hastening the day when peace shall come is to be commended highly."

While the delegate refused to view optimistically the aftermath of the war, he looks into the future with hope rather than apprehension.

"The Holy Father and all hope for a religious regeneration," he said, "I am not a politician; not a diplomat. Of political, industrial and the economic conditions I could not even hazard an assumption."

Father Bonzano today was on his way to Washington. He has been attending the sixteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies in session here.

DRAFT SLACKERS HELD FOR EVASION OF LAW

UPLAND, Cal., Aug. 28.—Long-haired, roughly clad, barefooted and their faces effectually masked by heavy growths of beard, two alleged draft dodgers were driven out of their cave-man existence in the mountains back of here today and held as draft slackers. Both men are of German extraction and claim exemption on account of conscience scruples. They preferred the hardships of primitive life to selective service. They are Herman Schneider and Henry Fletcher. Each had erected a crude hut in a lonely spot, where they tried to live obscurely. Their food, save a scant supply taken with them weeks ago, consisted of what they could kill and pull from mountain streams near by.

Groceries, Chinaware, Glassware, Silverware and Household Goods. 205 EAST FOURTH OPERA HOUSE BLOCK

TUSTIN BRANCH TO ENTER CITY BY E. SECOND. COMPROMISE

Assistant Engineer of P. E.
Agrees to Paving and Bridge Proposals

A compromise plan for providing the Pacific Electric with a franchise for the portion of its proposed Santa Ana-Tustin line inside the Santa Ana city limits is under consideration. Features of that plan are:

The P. E. to use the East Second street tracks of the Southern Pacific from Bush to a point near the S. P., then build on the S. P. right of way southward to where the road will turn east to Tustin, on the right of way originally planned.

The P. E. is to complete its paving on East Fourth and West Fourth streets.

It is to stand a reasonable share of the cost of building a reinforced concrete bridge on North Main street.

It is to have in its franchise a provision that no freight shall be hauled on the East Second street portion of the Santa Ana-Tustin line.

The original plan of the P. E. was to have its Tustin branch leave the Huntington Beach line at the east extension of Bishop street, south of Chestnut, run through private property, across Halladay street and eastward to Tustin.

Property owners have not given a right of way for the portion of the line inside the city limits. A determined fight has been brewing against having the railway cut up the property, which in time will doubtless be a fine residence section.

The Santa Ana City Trustees received a petition from the P. E. for a franchise for the Bishop street line. Very quickly and firmly the trustees declared their opposition to the route, and the franchise was held up.

Recently, Assistant Engineer Johnson of the Pacific Electric was here, and in a conference with city officials he was told by Trustee McPhee what he believed would be an acceptable outline to take up with the City Trustees. McPhee, speaking for himself and not for the other members of the city board, said that the route on East Second and by way of the S. P. right of way would be acceptable to McPhee provided the P. E. would agree and do certain things. To McPhee, Johnson agreed that the P. E. would double its force of men on West Fourth and complete that job of paving; that the P. E. would let a contract at once for paving the East Fourth street strip, east of the steam roads, left unpaved when the P. E. had an unused franchise for that portion of the street; that the P. E. would stand a reasonable share in the cost of building the North Main street bridge. McPhee said that he would not vote for a franchise allowing the P. E. to haul freight on East Second, through the streets of Santa Ana.

CANADA FACING CRISIS: PRESENT MILITARY CONDITIONS EXPLAINED

SECOND ARTICLE

OTTAWA, Canada, Aug. 23.—To define Canadian political designations in American terms, the Liberals would be Democrats in the United States. The Conservatives would be Republicans. Party organizations are more rigid in Canada than they are now in the United States but in both the Liberal and Conservative parties there is the natural grouping of progressive and reactionary elements.

Both party organizations have been hard hit in the fight over the conscription issue which will culminate in the general election next fall. The anti-conscriptionist Liberal party (the "outs") under Laurier's leadership, are going into the fight with the solid support of the province of Quebec. Quebec returns sixty-five seats to the House of Commons. Conservatives concede that Laurier will control at least sixty of them. Quebec is the "solid South" of Canada.

There are 500,000 Germans and Austrians in Canada, chiefly located in western provinces. Public opinion is that their vote will be almost solidly Liberal. Along with this vote there will be what Conservatives call the "slacker vote" or the support of men who have not enlisted. This will be important without question. Laurier, too, has a certain advantage in the fact that over 300,000 of the most progressive and aggressive of Canada's men are in war duty in Europe. Their strength would be strongly pro-conscription.

While Canadian soldiers can vote, previous efforts along that line have shown the difficulties of conducting an election along the fighting front are tremendous. But twenty per cent of the soldier vote of British Columbia was cast and counted in a recent provincial election.

It is upon these forces, the French-Canadian vote, the alien, the "slacker" and the "died in the wool" Liberal party man, that Sir Wilfrid bases his hopes of success.

On the Conservative side it is freely admitted that the outlook for success is not the brightest. Yet Borden has many sources of strength. He has behind him a far more united party than Laurier. He has the support of the British Liberal Party. Early in the campaign a proposal for a coalition government was proposed to Laurier but refused by him. Now there is very strong talk of a Unionist government made up of Conservatives and "Win the War" Liberals.

This is the line-up in Canada. They have brands of political hookum over there that have never been smoked on this side of the lakes and every pipe is going to be put to it, full blast.

PROPHECY TELLS OF WAR'S END ON THIS DAY

Ancient Irish Monk Fixed
Date for Beginning of Present Struggle

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The great war should end today, according to a prediction of St. Malachi, an Irish monk, who lived about 1250 A. D. St. Malachi is said to have predicted the date of the start of the present war and the date of Rumania's entry into the struggle.

This is St. Malachi's prophecy as found on an original manuscript now in the City Museum, at Como, Italy. "When the first number shall meet the ninth and when the two shall be united with the first and sixth (1916), during the sixth month of the year (August), according to the old calendar and after two times four and two times ten days shall have passed (August 28), the new races which drew their name from the Romulus (Rumania) shall rise and shall ally themselves with powerful nations.

"Then the fierce beast who for three years and one month has been filling all the earth with blood, with horror and with carnage, now surrounded, smitten from all side and roaring in vain, will seek whom he may devour, but shall not find him.

"There shall be new battles while new moons shall wax and wane thirteen times. The fifth day after the sun leaves the sign of the Lion, the beast shall die a fearful death. A virgin whose name contains two iotas, a tau, and a lambda (Italy), shall crush his head and the Latin people shall share his spoils."

Astronomers consider the prophecy particularly wonderful because it is based on astronomical facts unknown at the time Malachi lived.

Italian journals say Malachi has predicted with signs and symbols the name of every pope since his time.

GIRDER TYPE BRIDGE FOR MAIN ACCEPTED FLAHERTY PLANS ACCEPTED BY COUNCIL

Modified Plans Bring Estimated
Cost Down to $39,200
For 50-foot Structure

Pacific Electric Portion to Be About $11,000, According to Estimates

Main Street Bridge.....$39,200
Protection Work.....2,500
Flower Street Bridge.....7,500
Total.....$49,200

Whether to call a bond election for bridges for $40,000 or $45,000 is a point the city council will have to decide in the very near future. The council last night decided to employ Edward T. Flaherty, Los Angeles bridge engineer, as engineer for the Main street bridge, he to furnish plans and specifications and superintend the construction of the work should the bonds carry.

The committee to whom the plans were submitted by Flaherty and the Orange County Engineering and Construction Co. met Friday night of last week and went over the two styles of structure. Trustees McPhee and Greenleaf, City Engineer Bonebrake, City Water Superintendent Reid and Col. S. H. Finley formed the committee. McPhee reported to the council last night for the committee, advising that the committee favored the steel girder bridge and plans offered by Flaherty. The original plans called for a fifty-foot span bridge at an estimated cost of $53,000. The cost was considered too high—more than the people would vote bonds for—and Engineer Bonebrake was authorized to go to Los Angeles and ask Flaherty to modify his plans and submit an estimate at the meeting last night.

Estimates Cost at $39,200
Flaherty did not have time in which to submit modified plans, but brought down plans showing a type of girder bridge, with 40-foot spans, that he estimated could be built for $38,200 without a 5-foot foot bridge on either side, or with the foot bridges, $39,200. It was this style of bridge that the council decided to accept, including the foot bridges, Flaherty to draft the plans and specifications at once. The structure will be fifty feet wide. For his services he will receive 5 per cent of the cost of the contract cost of the structure if he supervises the work, or 3 1/2 per cent without supervision. His contract is contingent on the carrying of the bonds. If the bonds fail, he receives nothing for his plans.

Flaherty advised that it would not be good business policy to erect the bridge without putting in wings to protect the ends. It was estimated that this work would cost in the neighborhood of $2500.

The proportion of the expense the Pacific Electric should bear on this bridge was discussed at some length, and the conclusion was arrived at that it should pay 11-40ths, or about $11,000.

The bridge has to be built to carry 100,000 tons' cars of the Pacific Electric, and depreciation will be greater by reason of the electric cars operating over it than it would be for regular road traffic, and for that reason the board members thought the railway company should pay the proportion designated.

Flaherty Employed
By motion of McPhee, the contract with Flaherty was referred to the city attorney, and if satisfactory to the legal adviser and the chairman of the board, the latter was authorized to sign the contract. The city clerk is to at once submit to the Pacific Electric company tentative plans for the bridge and ascertain whether or not it will be satisfied with the proportionate cost suggested.

McPhee reported that in conversation with Chief of the Construction Department Johnson of the P. E. the latter had advised that his company would be pleased to take care of a reasonable part of the cost of any character of bridge the city might decide on.

The Flower street bridge will be constructed by day labor. The committee reported that it believed by using materials that would be available from the Main street bridge when it is torn out, the Flower street bridge could be built for about $7500. This suggestion met with the general approval of the council and will be drawn by Flaherty without extra cost and erection will be under his supervision, if the board decides to let him supervise the construction of the Main street bridge.

The engineer thought that it would not be wise to attempt the bridge work before next February or March, after the rainy season. This would make it possible to provide a by pass through the creek while building work is in progress.

WHITE BUS LINE WILL EXTEND ITS SERVICE TO CITY OF SANTA ANA

Sixteen-passenger buses will leave Santa Ana for Los Angeles every thirty minutes, under permission to do business here granted the White Bus Line Corporation by the council last night. The company has been operating its cars only as far as Anaheim in the past, passengers from here being hauled to Anaheim by the Crown stage line and transferred to the White Line. The company last night presented application for permission to enter the city, stating that it wished to extend its line to this city in order to give patrons a better service. The service will start at 6 a. m. at both ends of the run and cars will depart from both points every thirty minutes.

The company filed the following price schedule with the board:

	One Way.	Round Trip.
Santa Ana to—
Anaheim	$.35	$.50
Fullerton	.40	.65
Coyote	.45	.70
Brea	.50	.80
Olinda	.55	.90
Stewart	.60	.95
La Habra	.65	1.00
Des Moines	.70	1.00
County Line	.75	1.00
Leffingwell	.75	1.00
Whittier	.75	1.00
Pico and Jimtown	.75	1.00
Montebello	.75	1.10
Los Angeles	.80	1.40

progress and would save delay in the construction.

Board in Dilemma
Following the settlement of the bridge matter, discussion of the bonds was taken up. A point was raised as to whether the entire amount for the two bridges could be voted in one sum, without designating the particular sums for the different bridges and the protection work. City Attorney Scott said that the ballots would have to carry the specific amounts for each of the projects.

Mayor Visel suggested that this might place the city in a very peculiar position. If bonds were voted for $7500 for the Flower street crossing and the Main street bridge bonds failed, the city would have only $7500 for Flower street and no material from the Main street structure. The bridge could not be built for that money. The city attorney advised that that was a chance the council would have to take.

Whether to call for a total of $40,000 or $45,000 was another point that concerned the council. Engineer Flaherty said he was certain that when bids were called for his plans for Main street, they would be within five per cent of his estimate.

If the bonds are voted and the bridges cost less than the amount of money called for under the bonds, the surplus can be applied only to payment of bonds, and the council doesn't want to call for more than was absolutely necessary, therefore if a $45,000-bond issue is called for, there might be a surplus.

It was suggested that the issue be made $40,000 and if a deficit should occur the difference could be made up out of the general fund.

The amount of the issue was not decided and will be taken care of when time comes for calling the election.

OUT OF 127 DIVORCE CASES IN 1916 BUT 21 WERE GIVEN CONTEST

Forty-seven Husbands Sue
While Fifty-nine Wives Are Seeking Legal Separation

Out of 127 divorce cases filed or heard during 1916 in Orange county, 106 cases were not contested. Of the twenty-one cases in which an answer or cross-complaint was filed, but few were contested when it came to the day of trial.

This is but one of a number of interesting statistics discoverable in an examination of records in Orange county. A state report shows that in the year 1916, there were 106 divorce actions started in Orange county. In forty-seven cases the husband was the plaintiff and in fifty-nine cases it was the wife who brought the action. Desertion holds first place in popularity as a ground for divorce. In fifty-four cases desertion was named as a ground for divorce. In nearly all of the fifty-four cases it was the only ground named. Thirty complaints gave failure to provide as a ground for divorce; while twenty-eight alleged cruelty. Adultery figured as the ground for divorce in four cases, while intemperance was cited as a ground in three cases, and the fact that a husband was convicted of a felony was the ground in one case.

FRAUD IN ENLISTING; MEN SENT FROM FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Between 25 and 40 men who sought service in France with Pershing's forces have been returned to this country because of fraudulent enlistment, extreme youth or other disqualifications which the men failed to mention in their enlistment blanks.

Fourteen cases of mumps, reported among them, are thought by War department officials today to have developed on the homeward voyage.

ALL'S WELL

There has been an impression in this country, cleverly fostered by pro-German agents and unintelligent pacifists, that the Allies are "about all in." We hear it said that they "wished this war onto" the United States, and that with our entrance they have meant to "lay down" and let us do the fighting.

We have been represented as "holding the bag." France, we have been told even by sincere friends of the allied cause, is "exhausted." Great Britain has been portrayed as ineffective and despairing, and Italy as having "shot her bolt." Nothing further was to be expected of Russia.

Recent events have shown the utter falsity of this view. The offensive blows struck on nearly every front give no indication of weakness. The French have made a terrific onslaught around Verdun. The British have crushed the strong German line on the Ypres front. The Canadians have forged ahead in the hardest task of the war and nearly completed the encircling of Lens. The Italians have cut a wide swath on the Isonzo front, and drawn nearer to Trieste.

These concerted offensives have netted the Allies many thousands of prisoners, scores of big guns and countless machine guns and other booty. And meanwhile the Russians have been holding their own. Forced back at some points, they have won at others. German and Austrian reports, making much of the number of Russian and Roumanian prisoners captured, have ignored the fact that on the entire eastern front they have lost more prisoners to the enemy than they themselves have taken.

There is today no sign of weakness in the iron ring, with the exception of Russia, and Russia's offensive power grows steadily. Great Britain and Italy are stronger than they have been at any time. And France, supposed to have been "bled white," has absolutely refuted that belief. Her military successes have corroborated the statement made a short time ago by Andre Tardieu, French commissioner to the United States.

Despite three years' losses, France has today 3,000,000 soldiers in the fighting zone, the largest number she has had since the war began. She must have a million or more back of the line. With those, and the men still in the colonies, she can maintain her big fighting force at its present level, Mr. Tardieu says, "for a long time to come."

In man-power, on the western front where the war began and where it will no doubt be ended, our allies outnumber the Germans nearly two to one. They surpass them enormously in military power. The human wastage continually lessens, as their artillery preponderance increases. France lost in the second half of 1916, with all her big battles, only 1.28 per cent in killed, missing and prisoners—a total of only about 65,000 men, not counting her wounded. And France is still financially strong. Up to January 1, 1917, she had borrowed only a little more than a billion dollars, and had loaned nearly that much to small allies.

It is the Central Powers that are discouraged. They are facing inevitable defeat. They will never again be capable of an offensive on the western or southern front. The French, British and Italians win continually. Progress may be slow, but there is always progress. Little by little the enemy is being worn down and made ripe for the final debacle.

That debacle may not come until next year when the offensive power of the United States is added to that of our allies, when Russia is able to strike with renewed strength, and when the Germans and Austrians are weakened to the breaking point by persistent defeat, loss of men and deprivation of food.

SOLDIERS' TAXES

In Ohio a citizen ordered off to the war need have no fear that his home will be sold for taxes while he's gone. A law enacted by the legislature last year will operate to prevent the sale of any soldier's property for non-payment of taxes until after four years. It may safely be assumed that before that period of grace is past the war will be over and the delinquent will have no good excuse for failing to meet his tax bills.

It might be well if there were a similar regulation effective in every state. Certainly the community can afford to be lenient with those who are pressed into service to fight for its safety and honor, and whose compensation is small at best. It's quite possible that but for the efforts of these men, the community would sooner or later find itself without any taxable property whatever—or find itself paying taxes to the Kaiser, in Belgian fashion. It's a small thing, but a thing contributing much to the soldier's peace of mind and therefore to his fighting efficiency, to give him assurance that the community he represents in arms will take care of his interests while he's gone.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Fairness in Selection

It is observed with pain that many sons of rich men are being exempted. The only apparent reason for this exemption is that they are the sons of rich men, and to the person up a tree this does not impress itself as sufficient. It seems to me that every man of military age would desire to be selected, and would be kept back by dependents only when these were real and not fake dependents. It is certain that the slacker whose act is deliberate will never emerge from the shadow of disgrace into which his conduct plunges him, and that the fact that he is rich has nothing to do with the case. Indeed, this very fact ought to be a stimulant. The country needs its working young men, who are useful in times of peace and the pursuit of industry. It does not need its gilded loafers, and when they get a chance to have the gilding knocked off, and to prove that, despite the general aspect of inadequacy, they are men and not mannikins, they ought to jump at the chance.

Without Prejudice

A bachelor judge has been given charge of a divorce court through which is a steady procession of galled and wincing teammates that want to be disentangled from the harness. He ought to be able to approach the delicate task with open mind.

Not a Novelty

Recently grocers had what they chose to call a picnic. That is to say they closed their stores and forgot all about business for a day. Of course this was a picnic, and yet a glance at memoranda from establishments dispensing eats assures me that grocers have a picnic every day but Sunday.

Heartless

Ohio examiners discovered one candidate for the army in whom they could discover no trace of a heart. He performed all the physical stunts with ease, and called for more, and yet they turned him down. Curious view to have taken. If a soldier has no heart, and lives, moves and has a healthy being without this customary organ, he would have one less vital spot than his comrades, and be by so much a better insurance risk. Possibly they thought a heartless man would conduct ruthless warfare.

Good Judgment

Up at Porterville they caught a wife-beater, and when the fellow found that he was to be tried by a jury of women he threw himself on the mercy of the male court. The impact cost him six months in jail, but doubtless he was exercising good judgment at that.

Trimming a Treasure Hunter

Back east a young woman managed to get herself considered engaged to a senile and doddering wreck, and when in a lucid moment he had her bounced from the premises, her heart was torn so that a jury awarded her $225,000 damages. Now the court has cut this to $125,000, which with a little revision would be about right. With the ciphers eliminated, and a period put after the $1, the verdict might have won universal approval.

Jones Gets Mixed

Senator Jones says that all the metropolitan papers are owned or controlled by the liquor interests. Only a short time before he had solemnly announced their ownership and control to be vested in the ammunition makers. Well, thank fortune, they are neither owned nor controlled by Jones.

Sizing Up Bill

A Mississippi jury has indicted William Hohenzollern for robbery, arson, murder, rape, plotting, bribery and conspiracy. Unfortunately for the interests of justice this notable outlaw is not within the jurisdiction of the gallant Mississippians, but they show themselves adroit readers of character, each with a heart that beats in the right place. Some day a warrant charging the offenses named will be served on Bill, unless he happens to get killed in resisting arrest.

Futile

Gentlemen may cry "peace, peace," but if they are a lot of subsidized fakers there will continue to be no peace.

Ethical

How about this? A lawyer represents to resident Germans that the government intends to confiscate their property, which the government never intended to do. So, in order, presumably, to fool the government, the lawyer himself confiscates the property, and when the party of the other part gets wise, and tries to rescind the bargain, twiddles his thumbs at the plaintiff. How does the bar association regard that as ethical? Will the courts permit the enterprising lawyer to get away with it? What is the essential difference between this operation and a swindle?

PRESIDIO SETS PACE IN CAMP REGULATIONS

American Nationalism

Minneapolis Journal

Nationalism some day may merge into an internationalism, co-extensive with the sway of Aryan civilization, or with an even wider area. In our day internationalism is no more than an inspiration of some groups, or a condition to which civilization slowly moves. As yet it is at best "a far-off, divine event."

Inchoate internationalisms, at the call of nationalism everywhere in August, 1914, abdicated every pretension and subordinated every profession and ideal. Militant nationalism, nationalism defending itself, demonstrated supremacy over all the classes and forces of society. Hence the thing to reckon with as a practical matter on this earth in our time is strenuous and concentrated nationalism, whereas internationalism as a piece of reality merits virtually no attention. Internationalism may be forming, but it is embryonic still and has yet to be born.

Those nationalisms that characterize our time more entirely than do any other form, are themselves all of a kind. The nationalisms are exaggerated, many of them are aggressive, all of them are strongly resistant.

And the conflict which has broken out in the world is essentially a contention among nationalities, and in the presence of such a manifestation any consideration of internationalism is a calculation above zero.

The composition of the several nationalisms which are operative today in human affairs is identical in every instance, except perhaps our own. Each nationalism rests upon unity, of blood, of language, of traditions, of customs, of culture, or sentiment.

Within the limits of the German empire in Europe, there prevail one speech, one culture, and there exists what amounts to one race. So in France and in Japan. Even a conglomerate, such as Austria-Hungary, obtains unity in result by substitution of force for sentiment, and so far as Russia is diverse, force redeemed the whole into a unit under the autocratic regime. The British empire, which includes vast alien India, has exhibited under stress and strain the cohesive effect of a common language and culture and kindred blood.

This form of nationalism we find differentiated only in the instances of China and the United States. China is supposed to be united racially, but linguistically it is diversified, while the unity of sentiment is represented rather by a universal tacit agreement to disagree. Chinese nationalism is the type of nationalism which Thomas Jefferson desired for America. But China today represents the logical consequence of such Jeffersonian doctrine, as disintegrated Greece two thousand years ago realized the logical consequence of such political philosophy as Plato promulgated.

If there has been peril of desecration in our own nationalism, the cause has not been Chinese, although the result might become Chinese. We have one language and one culture, but we have not one race. We can insist upon one language and one culture, as some fancy that we have needed to do, but we must wait the years to commingle our diverse racial currents into one common stream.

Meanwhile the test is upon us. A composite people racially, are we enabled by virtue of ideals alone to hold our own in competition with nationalisms that are supported by the fervent patriotism of blood?

Go abroad, and you will find London a city of Englishmen, Paris a city of Frenchmen, Berlin a city of Germans, Tokio a city of Japanese, whereas here a sedition mayor can speak of his American city as the "sixth German city in the world."

We must have unity in order to survive as a national organization. It ought to be sufficient to owe allegiance to American institutions, to have faith in American ideals, to be proud of American history.

Here we are free, and here we get more in return for our exertions than would be possible in any other place. Are we loyal? Are we fervent? Are we militant Americans?

Plenty of German Blunders

From the New York Independent

Just now we are being fed up with British blunders. Every Englishman who comes over says, "We did this at first. Don't make our mistake." The recent report of the committee investigating the Baghdad expedition shows such scandalous mismanagement and incompetence in command as to make Mesopotamia a cursed, instead of a blessed, word to English ears. The report of the Gallipoli disaster last year was also enough to discourage any people—except the English. It is enough to alienate any allies—except ourselves.

We, better than any other people ought to understand and allow for it, for we have the same habit of washing our dirty linen in public. It is the custom of democracy. That monarchies like Germany do not make the same disagreeable display does not mean that they have no dirty linen. It means rather that they never wash it. But because there is no such sharp criticism and frank exposure in Germany there has grown up a superstition of German efficiency and infallibility that needs to be demolished. To overrate an enemy is about as dangerous as to underrate him.

CANNING AND DRYING

By W. V. Cruess, University of Calif.

Without Sugar

Sugar is not necessary for the preservation of fruit. The University of California College of Agriculture, recommends the following methods:

Select fruit which is as ripe as possible so that it will have the maximum quantity of its own sugar. Prepare by pitting or peeling as the case requires and pack into jars or cans. Fill the jars or cans with boiling water. Sterilize the fruit as follows: Place the rubbers and caps on the jars loosely. Place a screen or other false bottom and add water to the washbowl to about one-half the height of the jars. If only a few jars are to be sterilized, a large pot may be used. Heat the water to boiling and keep at boiling for twenty minutes. Remove the jars or cans and seal at once. If the fruit is not sweet enough when it is opened for the table sugar may be added. The mixture of sugar and fruit is improved by a second cooking after the jars are opened. Many fruits, however, if picked when thoroughly ripe can be used without further sweetening.

With Sugar

Prepare a syrup of one cup of sugar to three cups of water for ordinary canning purpose. If a preserve is to be made use one cup of sugar to one cup of water. Pack fruits in jars and fill with the hot syrup and sterilize as in the first method described above.

Totamo Paste

Canned tomatoes form a very important part of the diet of the ordinary family. The canned product consists of about 95 per cent water. Because of the scarcity and high price of tin, cans, and jars this season, it will be readily seen how much space is wasted by canning tomatoes in their natural state. They may be concentrated to about one-eighth, or one-tenth the original volume and the concentrated product will contain all of the food value and all of the flavor and color of the fresh tomatoes. The not cover the status of men with reserve commissions, so Colonel Sladen, commandant at the Presidio, directed that command men must wear the same uniforms as student officers, eat at the same mess, sleep in the same kind of bunks and have just the same rights. Meanwhile eastern camps let commissioned men wear leather puttees and silver bars and mess alone.

But the regulations for the second camp contain Colonel Sladen's provisions.

Good Management

"Unlucky! Great Scott, man! He lost one digit and gained four. That's good business."

= Daddy's = Bedtime Story

Luck's Child at Home

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

THIS is how the bedtime story began: "When Giant Golden Beard answered the three questions a young messenger of the king wanted to know the giant's grandmother gave the boy three hairs from the giant's beard, reminded him of the answers and sent him on his way. Soon as he came to the ferry the ferryman wanted to know why he was in bond to his work."

"Ferry me over first and I will tell you," said the young man. When the boat reached the other side of the lake the young man said, "Give the rudder to the first passenger that comes along and run for your freedom."

"The next place that he passed through was the city where grew a wonderful tree that used to bear gold fruit, but now not even leaves."

"Kill the mouse that is gnawing at the roots of your tree," advised the young man. "Then you will have gold apples again."

"The townfolk gave him a rich gift for his advice, and he passed on to the next city."

"Here the city fountain had run dry."

And when the guard asked what to do about it, the young man replied, "Kill the toad that sits under the stone in the fountain."

"So they thanked him and gave him two asses loaded with gold."

"At last Luck's child reached home, and his princess wife was very glad to see him again. She rejoiced that everything had gone so well with him. Then he gave the three hairs from a giant's beard to the king, and the king could no longer deny that his errand had been well done. His heart was still full of hatred for the young man, though. The king was angry that he was the husband of his own daughter. He asked:

"Where did you find all this gold?"

"By a lakeside," said the young man. "Pray tell me where that I, too, may get some!" cried the king.

"Travel till you come to the shore of a great lake. There you will find a ferryman. Let him take you across, and there you will find on the other side gold plentiful as the sands."

"Away went the greedy king. When he came to the ferryman he was gladly taken across the lake. But just before they landed the ferryman gave the king the rudder and sprang ashore, leaving the old king to tend the rudder or else drown."

"And there the crafty old king ferries to this day. For nobody liked him well enough to take the rudder from his hand."

"Is that all?" asked Jack.

"Till tomorrow night," said daddy.

All's serene—quite too serene—in the realms of Fashion and Society these midsummer days, and the Social Editor may just as well trade her pen for a knitting needle and make sweaters and mufflers and army socks with her sisters. Faithful and persistent inquiry among her friends fails to produce a line of news. "Just say I'm putting the collar band on my sixth surgical shirt this week," says Madame with pardonable pride, and her next door neighbor, equally zealous in well-doing, reports with equal and altogether commendable enthusiasm that she is just "toeing-off" her fourteenth sock.

"What am I doing?" repeats another erst while source of gossip concerning dinner parties and bridge luncheons, "why, I'm stirring plum jam with one hand and knitting a Red Cross wash cloth with the other—or was when you interrupted me," she adds pointedly, and the crushed inquirer meekly and hastily says "good-bye," feeling that once more she has rushed in where angels fear to tread.

"Sixty pounds of tomatoes yesterday and peach pickles and chow-chow to-day," announces another famous hostess triumphantly. "I expect a medal from Mr. Hoover, for I haven't an empty jar in the pantry, and am ordering more."

And so it goes. If, as the Powers that Be keep telling us, the war will be won in the kitchen, and if Santa Ana is any criterion; it is admirably as good as won, and as for the knitters and valiant seamstresses, surely never a "Sammy" need go cold this winter, and every one may have a clean wash-cloth at least twice a week.

Daughters of Veterans
The Sarah A. Rounds Tent, Daughters of Veterans, yesterday afternoon at G. A. R. hall held their first regular meeting after a six-weeks' vacation. All of the officers were in their chairs and there was a good attendance. After an interesting business meeting, Mrs. F. Holbrook presented Mrs. W. E. Ward and her daughter, Miss Edith Ward, who are going east for a few months' visit, with a mysterious looking parcel which proved to contain some gifts which will remind them most pleasantly of their fellow lodge members.

Red Cross work has occupied the time of these patriotic women during the summer and they have furnished the work and material for a box containing eighty-four ambulance pillows. The Red Cross work will be actively carried on during the coming season, and a meeting for that purpose will be held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Wilson next Monday afternoon.

During the summer, the Sons and Daughters of Veterans of the Los Angeles tents entertained for the department officers. Santa Ana was well represented, as three of the district officers came from the local tent. Mrs. Eva Bell is a member of the state council, Mrs. W. E. Ward is department press correspondent, and Mrs. W. H. Thomas department patriotic instructor. On August 16th, Mrs. Bell entertained Mrs. James Zimmerman of Fresno, junior vice president. In the afternoon Mrs. J. T. Wilson entertained for the visitor.

Plan Alaskan Trip
Dr. and Mrs. P. R. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Porter of Orange will leave on Thursday for an extended trip to Alaska. The return trip will include stopovers in Vancouver, Seattle, Portland and other places of interest.

Quiet Wedding
Miss Gladys Case, one of last year's graduating class of the Santa Ana Hospital, on Saturday evening became the bride of Harold R. J. Baker of San Bernardino. The marriage was performed by Rev. H. W. Peck at the parsonage of the Methodist Church. The young couple will make their home in San Bernardino.

Coyne-Squier
Arthur E. Coyne, a medical student of Los Angeles, and Miss Maude Squier, a graduate nurse whose home is at Anaheim, were married yesterday by Rev. Charles F. Folkenburg of San Diego.

Milligan-Walton
The marriage of Mrs. Cora Milligan to Harry Walton of Long Beach, which occurred here Saturday evening is of considerable interest.

The bride has been a resident of Orange for eleven years. Her musical talent and bright and sunny disposition has made her very popular in church and musical circles.

The groom is a Spanish-American war veteran, not only serving in the battle at Cuba, but served as a regular three years before the war and also four years on Indian reservations in North Dakota after the war.

The couple will live in Orange.

Chatt'n' Seau Club
The Chatt'n' Seau club held one of its delightful meetings last evening at the home of Miss Grace White on Hickey street. The usual enjoyable program of chatting and sewing was interspersed with music and Miss Minnie Gardner was a guest of the club.

Over the dining room door through which the guests entered ran the announcement "Fall Fashion Show," and the table appointments were all cleverly carried out with this interesting event in mind. A brown wicker basket overflowing with its beautiful burden of pink, yellow, and lavender asters graced the center of the table.

SANTA FE BUDGET MAY PROVIDE DOUBLE TRACK
FULLERTON TO L. A.

FULLERTON, Aug. 28.—A request that the executive committee of the Santa Fe railroad authorize the building of a double track between San Bernardino and Riverside, and between Los Angeles and Fullerton will be included among the demands in the 1918 budget, which is soon to be presented.

Although not officially announced, the story comes through an authoritative source and is regarded as correct by railroad men in general. Complete details could not be learned, but it is assumed that this request will be of the many in the 1918 budget.

The executive body will meet in November and give decision. At this time other improvements at this point and affecting the Los Angeles division are also to be asked for.

The double track, say railroad men, would greatly increase the efficiency and allow more trains to be handled in this district.

About five miles of the road between Fullerton and Los Angeles has already been double-tracked.

The Princess
"The Double Standard" is at the Princess Theater today only. Any one who believes in the advantages of a clean city, free from plague spots which menace its youth, and an absolutely incorruptible administration of the laws, will endorse "The Double Standard."

The story upon which the play is founded was written by Brand Whitlock, well known as the United States minister to Belgium and author of many books on sociology. Mr. Whitlock served as mayor of Toledo, following the famous "Golden Rule" Jones, and made a record in that office which stands as a model. He has embodied some of his ideas on the subject of a single standard for judging the behavior of men and women in the novel on which this unusually strong picture is founded.

MESS SERGEANT IS MAN TO BE GOOD TO

He Has More Control Over
Soldier's Food Supply Than
Dictator Hoover

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Be good to the mess sergeant.

When you get to your cantonment camp to be made over into a soldier, be good to him, for he will be Lord High Commissioner of your stomach and everything that goes into it.

He will be the arbiter of your epicurean fate, and when, on entering the mess tent, you see him standing there in all his glory and fresh white coat, tug the forelock and scrape the foot to him, for he is more absolutely dictator of your food than Herbert Hoover will ever be.

He is the chief cook. He buys every bite you eat. He writes the bill of fare and dictates how you shall be fed.

He sees that your vegetables are properly cleaned before they're cooked. He fights your battles with the butcher, to see that you get good meat. He haggles with the hucksters, to see that you get good green stuff. He gives the first and second cook, the dining room orderly and the three cook's police their orders. He runs the whole shebang for you and ninety-nine other rookies like you. He works hard for you, all day long and sometimes far into the night. And so, if he checks up the plates and spoons and things and finds you've lost a couple, and charges you for them out of your pay, don't grumble. He has to do that.

Don't Get Gay

Above all don't get gay with him on any account. He is responsible for your orderly conduct in the mess hall. He's there to see that you arrive in the proper quiet and orderly manner, with your uniform neat and clean. He looks you over, and if your hands are soiled or your face unclean, or your hair not properly brushed, he sends you kiting back to fix your self up, just like mother used to do.

He sees that you sit properly at the table, quiet and orderly, until your food is passed to you. He won't stand for any restaurant rough stuff, if you are in the habit of pulling any. Loud talking and unnecessary noise will bring him down on you stiff-legged, kerplunk.

He'll see that you follow Hoover's advice about not wasting your food, too. He's an apostle of the clean plate if ever there was one. If you take more on your plate than you can eat, he'll nab you. You're welcome to all you want to eat, but you're not welcome to any to waste. Food left on plates can never be used again. If it is left in the serving dish, it can be dish up in some other palatable form at another meal.

CAVALRYMEN GET ACTUAL WORK IN TRENCHES

Changes in Modern Warfare
Make Necessary Dismounting of Troops

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, Aug. 5 (by mail)—American cavalry regiments now undergoing intensive cavalry training may be surprised on their arrival at the French front to find their horses relegated to the stables and themselves to the trenches. As a matter of fact, the role of the French cavalry has been largely one of foot in the trenches. Unless the whole character of the war on the western front should change completely, it is entirely possible that American cavalry may undergo the same experience.

The change in the war that came when the Germans dug themselves in on French soil rendered it necessary for a large number of the French cavalry regiments to be dismounted and the men utilized in the foot service.

Enough of the cavalry was retained to meet any requirements that may yet come with a revival to open warfare, but the wisdom of the change has been demonstrated by the fact that since then the French cavalry that still continues as such has only had two occasions to get into action. During the first few days of the Battle of the Somme cavalry patrols were thrown out ahead of the advancing infantry for a few days, and during the German retreat of last March the cavalry again had a busy week chasing the fleeing Germans.

But that has been all. With the whole war in a trench basis, these "cavaliers a pied" or cavalrymen afoot as they are known, took their turns in the trenches. A consistent effort was made to use them where their special qualifications and fitness would render the most service. It was quickly found that they were especially valuable for advance posts, for sentinel and watchpost service, for scouting and "couverture" work which resulted in a great number of them being used in small groups of one or two platoons.

A notable instance of where just the right kind of a "nook" was found for them was on the Yser. Where the French line runs into the North Sea at Nieuport, Marine Infantry were found to be the most adapted for the trenches there, as there was all the atmosphere of the sea and marine warfare. A little farther south, however, there was a long line of advanced posts entirely detached from the rest of the line and which could only be reached by little foot bridges thrown across the canal at just 900 yards from the German sharpshooters. The dismounted cavalrymen took to this wonderfully and with their marine brethren to the north made things warm for the Germans until that part of the line was taken over a short time ago by the British.

Not a few of the dismounted cavalry regiments had the good fortune not to be broken up into separate groups this way but were organized for example into regiments of light infantry or special tasks. Regiments of this class won laurels for the "cavalry afoot" in the French offensive of May, when, supported by tanks they tore open about six kilometers of the hinge of the Hindenburg line at Vauxaillon. Greater evidence of the worth of these dismounted cavalrymen as foot soldiers was demonstrated in the recent fighting about Hill 304 at Verdun. The record of the squadron of the 24th Dragons, consisting of only 40 members, that defeated the Model Battalion of the German stossgruppen after a three-hour hand to hand fight in which half the dragons were killed, will probably remain for a long time the classic example of what French cavalrymen are doing afoot. That the turn of the American cavalry may also come is a very great possibility.

GRAPE JUICE
MADE AT HOME
GOOD QUALITY

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 27.—Any kitchen contains the necessary appliances for the making of grape, loganberry, or apple juice of a quality which compares with the commercially manufactured article, according to Prof. W. V. Cruess of the University of California.

To make grape juice, the Professor says a ripe, sound Muscat grape should be selected and mixed with an equal quantity of any good red wine grape, such as Zinfandel, Petit Sirah or Alicante Bouschet. Crush the grapes and heat over a slow fire to from 125 to 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Remove from the stove, let stand 24 hours, press and strain the juice. The juice then is ready to bottle. Then put the bottles in a boiler with a false bottom, heat to 175 or 180 degrees and keep at that temperature twenty minutes. Let it cool and you have grape juice. Loganberry juice is made by practically the same process but with apple juice, no preliminary heating is required, although the second heating is done as in the case of the grape juice.

How men once dreaded illness and accident! Meant suffering for the family; dependence perhaps, on relatives or charity. But NOW any man can at trivial cost. And no matter what his disability or how it may result, his Aetna Disability Policy becomes his sure, steady wage-earner.

Yours—INSURANCE—ly,
Ben E. Turner,

Suppose one of your wheels collapsed on a lonely road, miles from any garage or repair shop. Suppose you had to sit by the roadside for hours and wait for help to get home. Not a pleasant thought, is it? But that's what may happen any time if you go out with loose wheels.

SPOKITE

Swells Wood
IS NOT A GLUE

Tightens and Strengthens Loose Wheels

Don't take chances! Apply Spokite at once to the shrunken wood of your wheels and be safe. Spokite goes right into the wood, swells it as tight as new and keeps it tight. Simply squirt Spokite into the cracks caused by the shrinkage and in an hour your wheels will be tight and solid. You can do this without taking the wheels off or apart.

25c Does a $2.50 Job

Instead of paying $2.50 per wheel to have them tightened, you pay only $1.00 for a can of Spokite sufficient to tighten four wheels. You can do the job in an hour and be sure of having no further trouble. Mr. Jas. T. Irwin, Modesto, Cal., writes that his wheels were so loose he was going to throw them away. Spokite saved him the price of a new set. Thousands of others use it with equal satisfaction.

Get Spokite From Nearest Garage, Auto Supply or Hardware Store

What it does for others it can do for you. Save yourself from the annoyance and danger of loose wheels by getting and using Spokite at once. If your dealers can't supply you, write our factory and we will see that you get a quantity promptly.

Shortage of Ice

We wish to notify retail purchasers of ice that during the month of August there will be a shortage of ice. The wagons will supply customers as far as possible each day, but no customer may have ice two days in succession.

Our plant is running capacity every day and we have attempted to purchase from other Southern California plants, without avail.

We ask the co-operation of the people during this time, as wholesalers are obliged to have ice to take care of their perishable goods.

GEORGE TAYLOR REPORTED DEAD IN MYSTERIOUS MESSAGE

Confirmation of News Not Yet Received By Coroner or Sheriff

"George Taylor was killed this morning."

This message was telephoned to the Chamber's rooming house at 9 o'clock this forenoon by someone who failed to give his name or where Taylor had been killed.

Taylor is a roomer at the rooming house and left there early this morning to meet a man on East First street from whom he expected to get employment. He has been stopping at the Chamber's office and on for some time, coming here whenever out of employment. He returned from a ranch Saturday night and took a room.

No report of an accidental death has been received by either the coroner or sheriff's office. Mrs. Aline Pache, in charge of the rooming house, is mystified by the telephone message and knows of no one who would have reason to send such a report to her without some foundation for it.

BOOTLEGGER IS ALSO SLACKER. SISTER PROVES

Sidney Welsh and His Tale of His Age Are Upset By An Affidavit

Sidney Welsh is a living example of what it feels like to be dumped out of the frying pan into the fire. He faced a charge of being in a poolroom when he was a minor. In the attempt of his sister to rid him of that charge, it developed that Welsh is 23 years old and did not register for the draft.

About June 1 Welsh began work in a poolroom at Los Alamitos. Sheriff Jackson states that he has evidence to show that Welsh was also engaged in the gentle art of bootlegging.

Welsh was evidently not unmindful of the danger that lurked in his path when he gave his age as 21. He told Sheriff Jackson, in explaining why he had no registration card, that he became 21 on July 8. Registration was in June. Jackson then concluded to prosecute Welsh for being in the poolroom while he was a minor.

A letter to the effect that prosecution was contemplated upon that charge was sent by the sheriff to Welsh's sister, Mrs. E. L. Hitchcock, in Texas. Mrs. Hitchcock replied with an affidavit, witnessed before a notary public, stating that her brother Sidney was 23 years of age, that he was born in Bracketville, Kinney County, Texas, on July 8, 1894.

Sheriff Jackson informed E. M. Blanford, federal special agent in Los Angeles, of the situation, and Blanford said he would get a warrant for Welsh and would take him to Los Angeles to be tried as a slacker.

SWAT MOSQUITO; HELP WIN WAR ON KAISER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The American Red Cross today started out to help win the war against the German Kaiser and the American mosquito.

The great armies of mosquitoes now infecting the vicinities of cantonment camps that will hold America's first 637,000 drafted men next month, are looked upon by the War Department as strongly pro-German.

"These mosquitoes," said a government official today, "would shoot the American soldier full of malaria as readily as the Kaiser would shoot him full of lead."

"One is just about as bad as the other."

Experience proves that the mosquito has no patriotism in his makeup. He is all buzz and stinger.

In the southern states, where h'ers mosquito scatters malaria like the Kaiser scatters peace proposals, the Red Cross has already started its big drive on the nightingale of the bedroom.

They must be eliminated, not only in camps proper, but in the surrounding country. Fifteen square miles of territory within a radius of a mile around each camp must be purged of the pest.

AT THE COURTHOUSE SUIT OVER CATTLE NOT DELIVERED IS BEFORE COURT EHR

J. W. Morrison, meat market proprietor of Orange, has brought suit against Cornelio Echenique, well known rancher of San Juan Capistrano, for $4200 damages. Morrison's complaint, filed by Attorneys W. M. Brown and L. A. West, alleges that on January 12, 1917, Echenique agreed to sell Morrison 168 head of beef cattle at seven and a half cents a pound, to be delivered in carload lots. Morrison states that in April deliveries ceased, and the rest of the cattle were sold in Los Angeles at ten cents a pound. Morrison states that he had to go in the open market and buy beef, and that he had to spend $4200 more than he would have had to spend had he been able to get the cattle at the price named in January.

Names Deputy County Game Warden W. E. Adkinson has appointed his son, Russell, as a deputy.

GOLD LEAKAGE TO GERMANY INDICATED

U. S. Is World Dictator, and Will Make Effort to Stop Enemy Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The United States today is supply dictator of the world.

The widened export embargo regulations, requiring that meats, cotton, sugar, oils and other commodities shall have export licenses from the government, takes out of Britain's hands the issuance of letters of assurance to ships and tightens the throttle on Germany.

Publication of the list developed the fact that American gold has been leaking into Germany through secret channels.

With the issuance of licenses in the hands of the export administrative board, this nation started on a policy of strict checking on any nation re-exporting to Germany.

Any country violating this rule runs the risk of complete shutting down of the ration.

GOLD LEAKAGE TO GERMANY INDICATED

The leakage of gold was evidenced by the suggestion that soon Secretary McAdoo will issue regulations concerning export of coin, bullion and currency to neutrals.

By a network of relays and credit transfers extending over three or more continents, banks in neutral countries may be helping to get American gold into Germany without knowing it.

Agents in South America, Switzerland, Spain, Denmark and Holland may establish a route, direct or indirect, by which American gold is smuggled into Germany.

Last week alone our gold exports amounted to $12,421,000. Of this $8,345,000 was destined for Japan and $2,665,000 for Spain. Since the United States entered the war our gold exports have totalled more than $200,000,000. Between June 1, 1917 and August 25, gold coin and bars to the amount of $128,469, 920 left the port of San Francisco alone.
